

F. B. CATE REAL ESTATE AGENCY

In looking over our large list of real estate placed with us to be disposed of this coming spring, we find in order to dispose of the same, we must place a very low price on every piece we offer, and we have convinced the several owners that it is best to cut the price to the very lowest, so no matter what you want to buy you will find us a help to you.

If you are thinking of going on to a farm in the spring it is well to be looking for the right one and be ready to commence work as soon as the season is ready. We have a large number on our list and no doubt some one of them is just the one you want. Come in and look over our list of city property. Let us show you a sample of granite from a quarry we have listed with none better on the hill.

Our office is open evenings (except Thursday evenings) and our team is always ready to show you the property. Remember the place,

ABOUT THE STATE.

Items of Interest Gleaned from Our Exchanges.

A number of Brattleboro business and professional men met Monday afternoon at the home of Rev. H. R. Miles and formulated a petition, which will be circulated for signatures, asking the New Hampshire license commissioners not to reissue a license for the sale of intoxicating liquor and beer on the island opposite Brattleboro village when the one now held by the managers of the "brewery," so called, shall have expired in May, and when Brattleboro's licenses also expire by reason of the "no" vote in the March meeting.

Twelve beautiful memorial windows will be installed at the First Baptist church of Burlington next month, in memory of Charles C. Post and his wife, Sylvia Post. The windows are presented by the five daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Post, Mrs. Helen Doughty, Mrs. Eva Simmons, Mrs. Mattie Johnson, Mrs. Lora Stelle and Mrs. Cuba West. It is planned to have the windows in place by Easter Sunday. The windows are the product of the Redding, Baird & Co. studios of Boston and one rarely sees such magnificent handling of color as has been brought about in these twelve memorial windows. Each window is four feet wide and 18 feet high, eclipse top.

The Vermont state tennis tournament for 1905 will be held on the grounds of the Old Pine Golf club at St. Johnsbury, beginning Tuesday, August 8. This was decided at the meeting of the executive committee of the United States Lawn Tennis association held in New York Thursday. This will be the fifth year that the tournament has been held in St. Johnsbury. The championship is now held by Robert L. James of Saratoga Springs, N. Y., who holds one leg on the three-year-cup, as does also Henry Mollenhauer of Brooklyn, N. Y. The local arrangement will be in the hands of the tennis committee of the Old Pine Golf club and it is expected that the tournament will attract some of the best players in New England.

Word was received Saturday in Brattleboro of the death in New York Friday night of F. W. Fairbanks, a native of Newfane and for several years a member of the mercantile firm of Fairbanks & Ware of Wilmington, Vt., where Mr. Fairbanks married Mrs. Ellen Hall, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Stephen P. Flagg of that town. After his removal to New York Mr. Fairbanks was employed by Crandall, Godley & Co., bakers' supplies, being himself engaged in the baking business there for a number of years. Mr. and Mrs. Fairbanks' only child, a son, met with a shocking death in New York several years ago by falling from the roof of a house where he was flying a kite. Mr. Fairbanks leaves a widow, the sister of John H. Flagg of New York and Fred Flagg of Troy.

Albert K. Ingraham, a former resident of Bennington and a veteran of the Civil War serving in the Tenth Massachusetts infantry, died recently at the soldier's home in Chelsea, Mass. Mr. Ingraham had a most unusual experience during the war. He was terribly shot and left on the field for dead. Later he was discovered he was alive and he was hurried to a nearby hospital. The surgeon in charge felt there was absolutely no chance for the man to live, and paid little attention to him, preferring to give his attention to men whom he felt had some chance. The injured man showed such vitality, however, that the surgeon the next day took a little extra care of him and his life was saved. He was under the doctor's care for upwards of three years, however, a portion of one side having been shot away. When he returned home after being discharged from a hospital he weighed but ninety pounds.

"BAT" MASTERSON'S FEATS.

Incidents in the Well Known Gun Fights of the West.

William Barclay Mastersson of the Springs, Ariz., better known as "Bat" all round "bat man" and "bat king" who has been employed as a game warden in the Arizona game preserve, is credited with twenty-eight killings on the handle of his "bat" gun. That he has killed that number of men, says the New York World. Bat doesn't do much talking about these episodes in his career, contenting himself with saying that whatever shooting he has done has been in the strict performance of his duty.

"I don't believe in fighting except when I have to," says Bat.

About 1877 he was made marshal of Dodge City, Kan., by the class of gamblers known as the "responsible," which meant that they would not stand for a crooked game. Bat's task was to drive out the crooks, and he proceeded to do it in the most efficient manner at the point of his gun. There were running street fights, in which pistols rang out like merrily.

Bat cut the first notch in his gun at a settlement known as Adobe Wall, on the Canadian river, and it was only the fact that his gun spoke an instant before the other fellow's that saved his life.

That same night a band of Indians led by a renegade negro attacked Mastersson and his men and were not put to flight until Mastersson put a bullet through the negro's heart.

Mastersson's greatest record as a man killer was made when six cowboys killed his brother in Dodge City, Kan. Then they took possession of a dance hall and began to "shoot it up."

Into this crowd walked Bat. "All of you get out of here except the fellows that killed my brother," he commanded.

There was only one movement, and that was for guns, but Bat killed the six cowboys.

TO KILL THE DANDRUFF GERM.

Is the Only Possible Way of Having an Effective Cure.

If you see a woman or a man with brilliant glossy hair, you may be sure neither has dandruff to amount to anything. In nearly every case where women and men have this brittle hair, they owe it to dandruff. There are hundreds of preparations that "claim" to cure dandruff, but not one but Newbro's Herpicide tells you that dandruff is the result of a germ burrowing into the scalp, and that permanent cure of dandruff and its consequent falling and baldness, can only be had by killing the germ; and there is no other preparation that will destroy that germ but Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, and you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Now that capital punishment has been legalized in Colorado we may expect that those juries will hang them ever.—Denver News.

It seems to be the idea of some persons that arbitration is an excellent thing so long as the arbitrators courts sustain their conclusions—that otherwise the system is a failure.—Buffalo Courier.

It is a comforting thought to Anglo-Saxons that the combined navies of Great Britain and the United States could compel peace as against the wishes of any four of the great powers of Europe.—Cleveland Leader.

Insurance these times has reached the dignity of a just tax on property. All commerce demands it, real estate cannot do without it, and personal property pays it even when it escapes the efforts of the public tax gatherers.—Memphis Commercial Appeal.

Sneezing.

Sneezing is averted by pressing the upper lip, because by doing so we deaden the impression made on a certain branch of the fifth nerve, sneezing being a reflex action excited by some slight impression on that nerve. Sneezing does not take place when the fifth nerve is paralyzed, even though the sense of smell is retained.

The first dose gave relief and one bottle cured me." Sure cure for sore throat, bronchitis, coughs and colds. Guaranteed at the Red Cross Pharmacy and Parlor Drug Store. Price 50c and $1.00.
